

Hi! I made it.

I flew in from the North Pole last night, and I picked your house on purpose.

Here's how this works:

- Every night I fly back to check in with Santa.
- Every morning I'll be somewhere new. Your job is to find me.
- House rules are up to your grown-ups. Ask them.

I'm a great listener. Tell me stuff.

See you tomorrow morning, wherever that is.

Love,
Your elf
